Dear special guests, friends and supporters,

I welcome all of you to our May-June edition, as always, armed with the spirit of “Indonesian optimism”.

The month of April was memorable for our country. We recently concluded what is hailed as one of the biggest and most complicated presidential and general elections in the world, in a peaceful and smooth manner. As Indonesians, we are truly blessed to have witnessed this momentous simultaneous complicated election, with the highest ever participation rate of more than 80% of the voting population, and involving almost 170 million votes.

To us, the months of May and June will be enriched by various religious festivities in all of our Plataran resorts, hotels, restaurants and venues. We will showcase the unique experience of our renowned special break fasting menu for the month of Ramadhan in all of our restaurants. Other religious festivals will also be held at our Plataran resorts for which you are more than welcome to attend.

At the end of May, Plataran Borobudur will celebrate Vesak Day, where Buddhists all over the world celebrate the life, enlightenment, and death of Buddha. This celebration will be highlighted with the release of one thousand lanterns at the plaza of the Borobudur temple. Our Plataran resorts in Bali will also celebrate Galungan and Kuningan, where relatives return to the Island of the Gods to commemorate the spirits of deceased love ones. These celebrations will also be marked with prayers, offerings and intricate penjor decorations.

At this opportunity, we are also very pleased to inform you that our Plataran resorts and restaurants have recently received various prestigious international awards such as “Best Luxury Resort” and “Best Indonesian Restaurant” from international reputable organizations. Full details will be announced in October once the news embargo for these prestigious international awards are lifted. Last but not least, we proudly welcome you to the opening of our Padma Spa House, Glass Gym and Cabanas on the beach of Plataran Komodo Resort.

For us at Plataran, it is always important to keep the energy positive and to never stop our creativity and improvements.

Salam Plataran,

Yozua Makes
Chief Executive Officer
Galungan & Kuningan in Bali.

Galungan is a traditional Balinese festival that celebrates the triumph of good over evil, known as Dharma and Adharma. The Balinese believe this is a time when ancestral spirits visit the Earth and return to their family home. For ten days, they are welcomed with grand celebrations, pilgrimages, ceremonies and feasts. This ten-day visit culminates in the Kuningan festival, when lots of roasted pigs, yellow turmeric rice and traditional rice cakes are served. As part of Galungan, from May 29 to 31 this year, elegantly curved and decorated bamboo poles known as ‘penjor’ will line the streets all over Bali. This makes the island even more beautiful than normal, so if you’re visiting for the first time, it really is the perfect time to get a sense of the artistry and ceremony that makes Bali so unique.

On May 30, the Galungan celebrations reach their peak, as people put on their finest clothes to visit family members and temples. This is a time of year when the Balinese go home to their villages, so it's a very happy occasion. During this period of celebration and togetherness, Plataran hotels and resorts welcome guests to join the festivities as members of our extended family across the world; there is no better time to witness the unique culture and ceremonial wonders of Bali, and rejoice in the joy of friends and family.
A Thousand Lights Above Borobudur

The holiest day in the Buddhist calendar is the Vesak festival; a time when people all over the world commemorate the birth, enlightenment and death of the Buddha. The largest Buddhist monument in the world is the perfect place to mark this occasion, and at Borobudur in Central Java, the annual festivities do not disappoint. Every year, the monument’s 504 statues, 2,672 relief panels and many ornate stupas are illuminated by the glow of a thousand lanterns released by monks and pilgrims, and one of Indonesia’s most popular tourism sites becomes a setting of great beauty, peace and appreciation. This year’s Vesak Day is scheduled for Sunday, May 19.

May is the ideal time to stay with us a Plataran Borobudur and Plataran Heritage Borobudur, as we are located right on the doorstep of the Borobudur temple and will have front row seats for the Vesak celebrations. From here, Plataran will provide regular shuttle trips to the temple, along with tours and informative services for guests. Whether making a pilgrimage, or simply looking to experience the full splendour of Borobudur in all its ceremonial glory, Plataran can be your guide.

Family Reunion on the Slopes of Bromo

At this time of year, families all over Indonesia are reunited for the Idul Fitri celebrations, Kuningan festivities and summer holidays in storied locations all over the archipelago. A destination that’s perfectly suited to family gatherings is Plataran Bromo, where a range of accommodation, dining and wellness facilities are complimented by cultural immersion encounters, group activities and the spectacular beauty of nature. Here, families can celebrate together in the shadow of Java’s most awe-inspiring mountain, and make new memories together that will last for generations.

Perched on a hillside in the highlands of Java, Plataran Bromo offers superb views over agricultural plantations, apple orchards and farmland. This verdant plateau rises steadily up through the valley, ascending to the gateway of Bromo Tengger Semeru National Park – a UNESCO World Heritage Site. In this magnificent setting, Plataran Bromo embodies the natural beauty and cultural richness of its destination; through authentic local cuisine and traditional rituals, we proudly present Java’s Tenggerese heritage for guests to admire. Through a range of trekking, dining experiences and adventures, we take visitors off the beaten track and deep into one of Indonesia’s most wonderous locations.
From Idul Fitri to Father’s Day, and from Galungan and Kuningan in Bali to Vesak Day at Borobudur, the next two months will feature a range of family-oriented festivities throughout Indonesia. Plataran resorts all over the archipelago will be the setting for reunions, catchups, and the making of brand-new memories together that will live on through the generations. At this time of solidarity and celebration, we caught up with two members of our Plataran family, to find out what family means to them.
Agus Sutanto

How does it feel to be a Father?

It feels absolutely amazing to be a Father! I am blessed to have two boys, who are both my biggest supporters, my inspiration and the most precious thing in my life.

How do you spend quality time with your family?

When we have time together, we like to chat and discuss what each of us has been doing during the day. We’re also a very foodie family, so love nothing better than to venture out in search of some new culinary experiences. This doesn’t have to be a long journey – we actually really like walking around our neighborhood in search of street food and some delicious local delicacies.

Jacky

What does family mean to you?

I feel so thankful for having a loving wife and three very lovable boys. Being a father is such an unbelievable experience, and the best thing in life for me. Family means everything to me; they are the reason I come home and the reason why I work so hard too – to support my family and make sure they are taken care of. For me, it is important that I always strive to improve myself - so my family can respect me and learn from me.

How you spend quality time with your family?

For us, family time is food time! We love to eat together – whether gathered round a table at home, in our favorite restaurant, or just tucking into a big bucket of popcorn at the cinema, we’re all committed to the culinary! One of my favorite ways to spend time with family is driving my boys to school in the mornings. Our religion and our cultural heritage are central to our family life; we all go to temple together to pray and pay our respects – it’s a great way to connect not just as a family, but as a community too. In Bali, the whole island is like one big family, so celebrations and festivals strengthen the bond between all of us.
